Nubian Origins Of Egyptian Predynastic Civilization

Synopsis

Without Nubia there would have been no dynastic Egypt! The origins of the ancient Egypt we all know and love lie in the predynastic cultures of southern Egypt. This culture created the world's first city known as Hierakonpolis around 3800 BC. The Egyptians called it Nekhen. In this city was found evidence of the first temple, the first pottery factory, the first brewery, the first image of the Falcon Horus. Hierakonpolis was part of the Naqada predynastic culture of southern Egypt which began around 4000 BC. It was located around 100 miles from Aswan in present-day Nubia. Few people, however, are aware of the technical accomplishments and cultural impulses that came to Hierakonpolis from Lower and Upper Nubia. It made possible the economic and military expansion that created the Egyptian civilization of dynastic times. Without Nubia there would have been no Hierakonpolis!

Customer Reviews

It's not only very short there isn't much information in it either. Certainly nothing with any real proof in my eyes. They may well be correct but they haven't completely convinced me yet.

Muller helps you understand the history you were not taught in school. Makes one wonder how they got it all wrong in the first place.. What is it about the Nubian people they really fear that they would produce an entirely different his-tory.

Very informative. I learned a great deal.

Clear and well documented, but what about the influence of desert people on predynastic Egypt?
Do they have the same origin?

great book
